Music helps local kids learn about civics

Students at _____ recently took part
School, city
in Modern Woodmen of America's Patriotic Civics Program. The free program uses original and favorite patriotic songs to reinforce classroom lessons and activities on history and civics.

Entitled, "Our Great Democracy," the program is divided into three age groups. It can be used with kids in preschool through eighth grade, and it meets many national teaching standards.

Program materials include a comprehensive leader's guidebook filled with lesson plans and activity ideas; an audio CD of original and favorite patriotic songs that support the curriculum; student workbooks; and photo frame magnets for each child.

The program is one in a series of free Youth Educational Programs Modern Woodmen offers to schools, homeschoolers and youth groups nationwide. The programs benefit more than 2 million kids annually.

Founded in 1883 as a fraternal benefit society, Modern Woodmen of America offers financial services and fraternal member benefits to individuals and families throughout the United States.
